

Northern Colorado Plateau Regional Resource Issue Analysis:

ISSUE SURVEY

03/14/02

Please identify up to five priority resource issues facing land managers in the Northern Colorado Plateau region that you think would benefit from regional information synthesis and interdisciplinary analysis. For each issue identified please try to answer the following questions:

- What values or conditions make this issue a concern?
- What information is needed to address the issue?

Example:

Energy Development - Production of energy (oil and gas, coal), locatable minerals, and non-energy related leases are important economic values. Increases in demand, changes in level of production, and changes in commodity type can impact the resource condition in the region.

- Can BLM meet increasing demand for energy development while addressing potentially adverse consequences to critical habitat for T&E species?
- In what form and where does energy development currently occur?
